WorkL for Business helps organisations to measure, track and improve employee experience with market-leading surveys and predictive data analytics delivered through our intuitive dashboards. Our self-service, standard and bespoke surveys are designed to meet the needs of all organisations globally, no matter the shape or size.

- Engagement surveys
- Diversity and Inclusion surveys
- Wellbeing surveys
- New Starter and Exit surveys
- Appraisal and review surveys

We know that to effectively improve employee experience and commercial performance each management level needs appropriate, easy to use and actionable insights aligned to your business objectives. Our holistic approach is proven to improve retention and sick absence, and when linked with our customer and supply chain sentiment surveys, tracks progress in productivity and commercial performance.

We don't just stop at results and action planning, we can also offer full consulting support and training packages to help you unlock your survey results to drive improved performance.
